

The Heart of you

I don't know – what light made this life for

I don't know – what I'll learn from this arduous road

I don't know – how to rest this thirst to know more

I just know – my heart hears a distant calling

'you really know – divine love is behind you'

'you really know – your true self is your soul'

'you really know – the love you're looking for ... is in the

Heart of you

From sorrow – we learn to walk with kindness

From shadows – we lean into the light

From deeds we sew – shaping tomorrow

As you grow – your history passes calling

'you really know – a lifetime is but a fleeting moment'

'you really know – home awaits your Soul'

'you really know – the love you're looking for ... is in the

Heart of you

And pain you know – makes bitter of this world of beauty

And pain you know – burns a flame across this land

And pain you know – grows into forgiveness

Time to know – here ... your higher voice is calling

'you really know – divine love is behind you'

'you really know – home too awaits your Soul'

'you really know – the love you're looking for ... is in the

Heart of you

The love you're looking for

The wealth you're hungry for

The life you're looking for

The goal you hope to score

The height you're reaching for

Praise you need so much more

Strength to find the summer's door

Wisdom's path your feet to walk

The eye of kindness at your door

The confidence to shine and soar

All the love you're looking for ... is in the Heart of you ...

© David Rowan 18th December 2007